

The Great Migration:

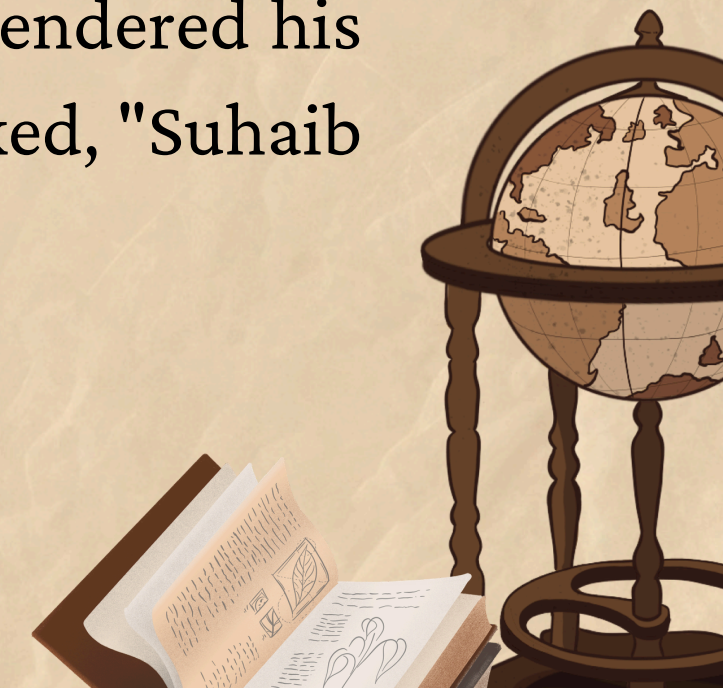

The Hijrah to Madinah

The Vanguard of Migration

- The Departure Permission: Following the Second 'Aqabah Pledge, the Prophet ﷺ permitted Muslims to migrate to Madinah to escape persecution and establish a new community.
- Personal Sacrifice: For most, migration meant leaving behind all material wealth and family ties in exchange for faith and personal safety.
- Extreme Risks: Migrants were frequently robbed or threatened with death by the polytheists who tried to hinder their departure.
- Incident: Abu Salamah's Family: He was the first to migrate, but his in-laws forcibly detained his wife, and his own tribe snatched his son, dislocating the child's hand. His wife, Umm Salamah, spent a year in grief before she was finally allowed to join him, traveling 500km mostly alone.
- Incident : Suhaib bin Sinan Ar-Rumi: When prevented from leaving, he surrendered his entire life's fortune to the Quraish to buy his freedom. The Prophet ﷺ remarked, "Suhaib has profited"

The Conspiracy at Dar-un-Nadwah

- Economic Fear: The Quraish were "paralyzed" with anxiety because the migration threatened their trade routes to Syria, which were worth a quarter of a million gold dinars annually.
- The Council Meeting: On 26th Safar, the chiefs of Makkah convened a serious meeting at the Council House (Dar-un-Nadwah) to stop the Prophet ﷺ.
- Incident : The Old Man from Najd: Iblis (Satan) appeared at the meeting disguised as a respected elderly man to influence the debate.
- The Murder Plot: After rejecting ideas of imprisonment or exile, they accepted Abu Jahl's plan: one young man from every clan would strike the Prophet ﷺ simultaneously so that the blood-guilt would be shared, making it impossible for the Prophet's family to take revenge.

The Night of the Escape

- Divine Command: Jibreel (AS) revealed the plot to the Prophet ﷺ and gave him permission from Allah to leave Makkah that very night.
- The Role of 'Ali (RA): The Prophet ﷺ instructed 'Ali (RA) to sleep in his bed and cover himself with his green garment to deceive the assassins.
- Miraculous Exit: The Prophet ﷺ walked directly past the assassins surrounding his house, casting dust at them and reciting verses from Surah Yasin (36:9). They were miraculously blinded and did not see him leave.
- Strategic Move: Instead of taking the northern road to Madinah, the Prophet ﷺ and Abu Bakr (RA) traveled south toward Yemen to mislead the pursuers.

Refuge in Cave Thawr

- Three Nights of Hiding: They stayed in Cave Thawr for Friday, Saturday, and Sunday while the search in Makkah was at its peak.
- Incident: Abu Bakr's Devotion: He entered the cave first to clean it and plug all holes. While the Prophet ﷺ slept in his lap, a poisonous insect stung Abu Bakr's foot; he bore the pain silently until his tears fell on the Prophet's face, who then healed him with his saliva.
- Support System: Abu Bakr's son, Abdullah, brought daily intelligence, while 'Amir bin Fuhairah brought goat milk to sustain them.
- Divine Assurance: When pursuers reached the mouth of the cave, the Prophet ﷺ calmed a worried Abu Bakr by saying, "Silence Abu Bakr! What do you think of those two with whom the Third is Allah".

Incidents on the Road

- Departure: On 1st Rabi'ul-Awwal, they left the cave with a guide named 'Abdullah bin Uraiqit.
- Incident : Asma's Waistband: Asma (RA) prepared their food but had no rope to tie it, so she tore her waistband into two pieces, earning her the title "Asma' of the two waistbands".
- Incident : Suraqah bin Malik: Lured by a bounty of 100 camels, Suraqah pursued them on horseback. However, every time he drew near, his horse's legs sank into the ground up to the knees. Realizing he could not harm them, he begged for peace and was given a written statement of security.
- Incident : The Shepherd's Milk: During a midday rest under a shaded rock, Abu Bakr (RA) obtained fresh milk from a local shepherd for the Prophet ﷺ to drink.

Arrival at the Suburbs and Madinah

- Incident: Umm Ma'bad's Goat: They stopped at a tent where an old woman had only a weak, dry goat. The Prophet ﷺ touched its udders and prayed, and it miraculously produced enough milk for the whole group.
- Arrival at Quba': After a tiring journey through many villages, the caravan reached Quba', a suburb of Madinah, on 12th Rabi'ul-Awwal.
- The Welcome: The tribes of Al-Aws and Al-Khazraj, known for their might and power, were ready to host and protect the migrants.
- Transformation: Migration marked the end of the era of persecution and the beginning of a sovereign Islamic state.
- Summary: The Hijrah teaches the importance of combining Tawakkul (Trust in Allah) with careful, strategic human planning.
